Community Capital Bancshares and AB&T National Bank Announce Addition to Boards of Directors

Albany, GA – Dr. William “Jay” McAfee was recently named to the boards of directors for Community Capital Bancshares, Inc. and its subsidiary AB&T National Bank.

A native of Albany and graduate of Albany High School, Jay attended the University of Georgia where he received a bachelor’s degree in biology. He then attended the Medical College of Georgia in Augusta, and later completed an internship at the University of Florida. Following a residency in radiation oncology at the University of Minnesota in Minneapolis, MN, Dr. McAfee returned to Albany and joined Radiation Oncology Associates at Phoebe Putney Memorial Hospital as a board-certified radiation oncologist. Jay’s wife Bethany is also an Albany native – they have two children.

“We are so fortunate to have Jay on our board,” stated Luke Flatt, president and CEO. “Not only does he bring with him his Albany heritage, he also represents the intersection of the past and the future of community banking in this area.” Jay’s father, the late Billy McAfee was a founding director and an ardent supporter of the bank until his death almost three years ago. Luke went on to say that “Jay’s wealth of knowledge, community experience and local commitment fit perfectly with our vision of becoming the gold standard of community banking.”

AB&T National Bank opened its doors in 1999 as Albany Bank & Trust and focused on providing customers with local decision-making and exceptional quality service. It is a member of the FDIC and is an Equal Housing Lender. For more information, visit www.abtgold.com
